1.2. Notwithstanding the foregoing, “Confidential Information” shall not include any information that:

- a) Becomes generally available to the public other than as a result of a disclosure by the Receiving Party;
- b) Was available to the Receiving Party on a non-confidential basis prior to the disclosure;
- c) Becomes available to the Receiving Party on a non-confidential basis from a source other than the Protected Party or its agents, advisors, or representatives which source is entitled, to the best of the Receiving Party’s knowledge, to make the disclosure;
- d) Was independently developed by the Receiving Party without reference to the or use of the Protected Party’s Confidential Information.

2. Confidentiality

2.1. The Receiving Party agrees:

- a) That using the same care that it takes to protect its own Confidential Information, it will keep in strict confidence all Confidential Information and not disclose or use for any purpose or allow the disclosure or use of any Confidential Information except in connection with the Purpose;
- b) Not to publish, disclose, or allow disclosure to others (except the Receiving Party’s affiliates or non-employee consultants), any of the Protected Party’s Confidential Information, in whole or in part;
- c) To restrict internal access to the Protected Party’s Confidential Information to those of the Receiving Party’s employees, its affiliate’s employees and non-employee consultants on a “need to know” basis;
- d) That in the event it becomes aware of the disclosure of any of the Protected Party’s Confidential Information then the Receiving Party will (i) promptly notify Protected Party of such unauthorized disclosure, (ii) take all necessary actions to recover such data, (iii) meet all reasonable costs incurred by the Protected Party in recovering or preventing use of such disclosed information;
- e) That, except as otherwise provided in any other agreement between the Parties, upon request by the Protected Party at any time, it shall promptly deliver all the Protected Party’s Confidential Information in

- tangible or intangible form then in its possession or under its control and expunge from its systems and records all Confidential Information in any other form.
- f) Confidential Information shall not be reproduced in any form except as required to accomplish the intent of this Agreement. Any reproduction of any Confidential Information of the other Party by either Party shall remain the property of the disclosing Party and shall contain any and all confidential or proprietary notices or legends which appear on the original, unless otherwise authorised in writing by the other Party. On reasonable demand by either Party, but in any event upon termination of this Agreement or the business relationship between the Parties, each Party shall surrender to the other or when more appropriate destroy and provide acceptable proof of such destruction, all Confidential Information in the Recipient's possession or control (including Confidential Information contained in any memoranda, notes, records, drawings, manuals, reports, computer software, and other documents or materials (and all copies of the same)) that have been obtained from the other Party.
 - g) The Protected Party reserves the right to collect, use, and/or process any personal information and/or personal documents of the Receiving Party.

The Protected Party also reserves the right to disclose Receiving party's personal information and/or personal document with Protected Party's Clients, Suppliers, Vendors and/or Affiliates.

- 2.2. If the Receiving Party is requested or required (by oral questions, interrogatories, requests for information or documents, subpoena, civil investigative demand or similar process) to disclose any Confidential Information, it is agreed that the Receiving Party shall provide the Protected Party with prompt notice of such request(s), so that the Protected Party may seek an appropriate protective order and/or waive the Receiving Party's compliance with the provisions of this Agreement. If, failing the entry of a protective order or the receipt of a waiver hereunder, the Receiving Party is, in the opinion of the Receiving Party's counsel, compelled to disclose Confidential Information under pain of liability for contempt or other censure or penalty, the Receiving Party may disclose such information without liability hereunder.
